Group Cookies Notice

Introduction

NoteMachine Group is committed to protecting you and any data (anonymous or otherwise) that we collect about you online. When you visit our websites or make use of our online services you automatically receive one or more cookies. The primary purpose for our use of cookies is to ensure the optimal delivery of our services. In addition, we use third party cookies for statistics and to analyse user behaviour.

By using our websites (through any device) you agree that this Cookies Policy applies to that use, in addition to any other terms and conditions which may apply.

This policy explains in more detail what cookies are, what types of cookies we use, how we use them and what you can do to manage how they are used.

In this policy we use the term “cookies” to refer to cookies and other similar technologies covered by the Privacy and Electronic Communications (EU Directive) Regulations 2003.

What are cookies?

A cookie is a small file of data, typically of letters and numbers, that a website asks your browser to store on your computer or mobile device. Cookies are sent back to the originating website on each subsequent visit and are essential to the effective operation of our website and to enable you to shop online with us.

Cookies also allow the website to "remember" your actions or preferences over time and are useful to recognise a user's web browser or device. They do not however contain personal information that can identify you.

Most Internet browsers support cookies; however, users can set their browsers to decline certain types of cookies or specific cookies, and can choose to delete cookies at any time from their browser settings.

Why do we use cookies?

We use cookies to learn how you interact with our website, its content and to improve your experience when visiting our website. For example, some cookies remember your language or preferences so that you do not have to repeatedly make these choices when you visit our websites.

Additionally, cookies allow us to serve you specific content on our own website and on third-party websites. We may employ the learnings of your behaviour on our website to serve you with targeted advertisements on third-party websites in an effort to “re-market” our products and services to you.

What types of cookies do we use

Strictly necessary cookies

Cookies Used	description
ASP.NET_SessionId	These cookies enable services that you have specifically asked for. For those types of cookies that are strictly necessary, no consent is required. These cookies are essential in order for you to use our website. Without these cookies you will not be able to place an order or access your 'My Account' settings.

Performance cookies

Cookies Used	description
__utma, __utmb, __utmc, __utmz, NewLogaholic_VID	These cookies collect anonymous information on the pages visited. By using our website, you agree that we can place these types of cookies on your device. These cookies are set automatically on each page of the site and they don't collect information that identifies a visitor.

Social Media and 3rd party cookies

You may receive cookies from social media websites and other 3rd party websites, for example by clicking on one of our social media links. We don't control the setting of these cookies, so we suggest you check the third-party websites for more information about their cookies and how to manage them.

Site Used	description

How do you manage cookies

You are not obliged to accept cookies that we send to you and you can modify your browser so that it will not accept cookies. You should follow the instructions in your browser (usually located within the “Help”, “Tools” or “Edit” facility) to enable or disable cookies. You can allow cookies from specific websites by making them ‘trusted websites’ in your internet browser.

However, please note that in order to view and/or use some of our products and services, and to enable some of the protection we provide for your financial and personal information, cookies are required on your browser. Disabling the use of cookies may therefore affect our ability to provide you with our products and services.

Further information concerning cookies and how to manage them to suit your preferences can be found by visiting <http://www.allaboutcookies.org> or www.cookiecentral.com.

Changes to our policy

This policy replaces all previous versions and is correct as of November 2017. We reserve the right to change the policy at any time and you should check our website periodically for any changes which may affect you. Changes made to this policy become effective immediately. Your continued use of our websites is taken as meaning that you agree to such changes.

This policy was approved by the Board of Directors and is issued on a version controlled basis under the signature of the Chief Executive Officer (CEO).
